NANO XSOMES

Introducing Nano Xsomes - the revolutionary cord blood (plasma)-derived exosome that is transforming the field of regenerative medicine. With a proven track record of safety, potency, and purity, Nano Xsomes are the only exosomes backed by published peer-reviewed studies on process and efficacy.

Our innovative product is formulated from human progenitor endothelial stem cells (hPESCs) and is characterized for biologically active factors using ELISA, nanoparticle tracking analysis, and single particle interferometric reflectance imaging sensing. The result is a highly potent extract that has been shown to promote fibroblast proliferation and induce stem cell migration, making it the ideal solution for a wide range of regenerative applications.

With the presence of growth factors such as IGFBP 1, 2, 3, and 6, insulin, growth hormone, PDGF-AA, TGF-β1, VEGF, and the anti-inflammatory cytokine, IL-1RA, Nano Xsomes offer a comprehensive solution for regenerative medicine. Membrane enclosed particles within exosome size range and expressing exosome tetraspanins CD81 and CD9 have also been identified, confirming the high quality and purity of our product.

No other exosome product has the pedigree or paperwork to prove it.
